The 1960 Meta

Peabody High School

Peabody, Massachusetts

"In football I'm a dandy
At kicking I'm the king
I'm Shakespeare, Keats, and Shelley
They often say I swing.
I've been a guide in Africa,
Thru jungles, swamps, and glades.
They've named me very properly
I'm Ambrose—Jack of Trades—
So come with me
And we will see a
Floating, lovely place
We have appointments we must keep
With friends and times in space."

Foreword

A lovely former day — yesterday perhaps — a week ago, or last year is a symbol of the past four happy years in our lives which have slowly slipped away from us, day by day. Now they are gone and it is time to leave the scenes of these moments to others.

And in this former day we enjoyed many special sounds — of laughter, of friends, of music and hearty cheering.

We loved to see the floating rainbow hues at dances, the school spirit at fall football games and we loved to see the joyous victory marches.

Together we have experienced the fruitfulness of secondary education with its gaiety of numerous social functions, its seriousness in myriad scholastic problems. Side by side we have prepared ourselves for the adult world — now enhanced and enriched we pass on to greater heights. These have been the precious, fleeting years of youth — never to return. But we have a wealth of treasures to have and to hold for future years — lasting friendships, perfect happiness and a fine education.

It has been our purpose to recapture many of the moments of the past four years, so that this, your META, may be for you a treasure chest of memories.

"My, my! I remember him very well."

Dedication

MISS MARIE F. COYLE

Distinctive charm and geniality enable Miss Coyle to conduct her science classes with a maximum of interest. With her pleasant disposition and understanding nature she has endeared herself to every student fortunate enough to have been guided by her teachings. To her, in recognition of these outstanding qualities, we respectfully dedicate this, our Meta.

NANCY PRAY

So happy are the days in this our dawn of life, that we sometimes neglect to appreciate the value of those who are near to us. It is only when these precious gifts of God are taken from us, that we truly realize the importance of their being. And when those who have departed were among our most cherished friends, we deeply regret, in honoring them in heaven, that we have sometimes failed to recognize their angelic qualities on earth. Our only consolation is in knowing that their righteousness in life has been duly rewarded by the Creator of all souls.

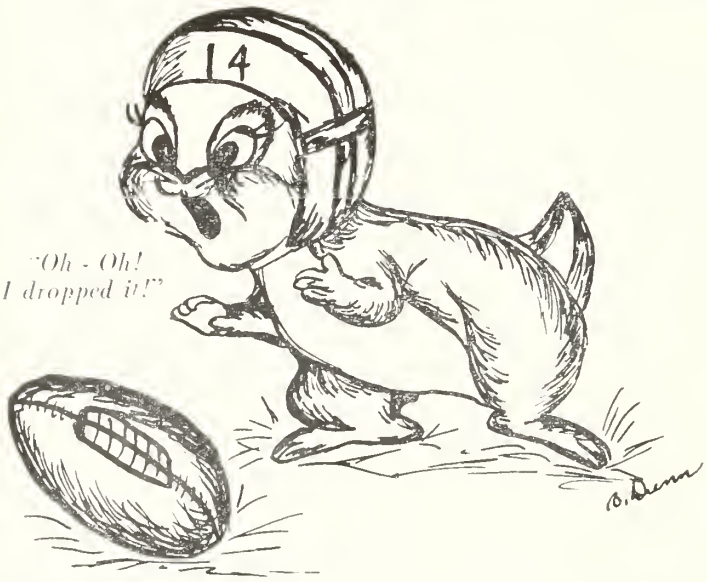
Absent when picture was taken were Dick Fugere, Warren Poole, Dan Katsarakes, Bob Benoit, and Dennis Barile.



1959 will long be remembered in the sports annals of Peabody High as the date of the resurgence of the Tanners as one of the North Shore's football powers. Rebounding from a barren '58 record, the Tanners swept six straight victories, and finished with an amazing 7-2 record, not having the state championship placed out of their reach until the final day of the season.

The Tanner line, one of the most powerful in the state, was well stocked with seniors. Frank Caires centered for the 7 mules, while Sid Goldfarb and Jack Marshall capably spelled by Bob Finnegan, manned the guard posts. John Georges and Danny Katsarakes represented the class of '60 at tackle. Bill Burke and Mike Efenecy were the regular ends, with Jay Dalton and Jack Oleks to back them up.

In the backfield, the Mr. Inside—Mr. Outside combination of Pete Wahtera and Dave Hallinan could not be matched by any halfback conbination in the state. John Cronin was a versatile man, capably handling assignments at fullback and either of the halfback positions. Signal callers Leo Espindle and Charlie Mantsourani gave Coach O'Donnell good depth and versatility at this position.

Fifteen Seniors stock a squad of twenty-three as John "Wolfie" Waselchuck takes over the Tanner varsity for his first year. Four-stripers include Captain Leo Espindle, a steady second sacker and one of the key cogs at the plate, and flashy right-hander Denny Price who also swings a big stick in the Tanners' attack. Dave Knowlton, Bob Coles, and Elliott Beres, three port siders, also represent the class of '60 on the mound staff. Behind the plate are Bill Lowd and Dave Hallinan; the latter also sees service in the outfield. The initial sack is patrolled by Bob Rogers while Rick Dziadyk holds down the hot corner. Rounding out the senior infielders is shortstop Larry Grillo. Anchoring the outfield are Danny Kulak and Pete Wahtera, veterans with a year of first string service behind them, backed up by fleet-footed Danny Mello.

Underclassmen rounding out the squad include pitcher-infielders Jim Ashby, John Quinlan, and Jim Retos, catcher Frank Espindle, infielders Ron Almeida and Mario Regis, and outfielders Terry Zimerowski and John "Marco" Apostolides.

The P.H.S. basketball team, though vastly underrated before the start of the season, had a highly successful one, capturing third place in the Essex County League and qualifying for the Tech Tourney with a 12-6 record.

Senior Co-captains Mike Nygren and Pete Wahtera will leave large shoes to be filled by their successors. Mike, effective while playing guard, also capably filled one of the forward slots, while Pete was a stalwart on defense. Sharp-shooting Charlie Mantsounani and Wendell Wilkinson were the only other seniors on the squad, which was well stocked with talented juniors, such as Stan Kanarski, Jim Retos, and John Galaris, who will make their weight felt in the Essex County League next year.

Finishing the regular season tied for third in the Essex Division of the North Shore Hockey League with a 6-6-2 record, the Tanners' Hockey squad continued what has been one of Peabody High's greatest years in athletics.

Co-captain Richie Tassinari, chosen for the All-Star Squad for the second year in a row, was again one of the finest goalies in the North Shore League, holding the opposition to an average of less than two goals per game. The other co-captain, flashy left-winger, Roger Nelson, was also an All-Star nominee. Pete Tkachuk handled assignments at both center and right wing for the first line while Bill Burke took his turns on defense. Bob Zilinsky, though hampered by a bad chest cold, bolstered the attack whenever he could play. Also carrying the colors of the class of '69 were forwards Walt Nekoroski and John Cronin, and defenseman Barry Goldberg.

Spring of 1960 marks Coach Jack Linehan's second year as mentor of the golf team. His only four striper on the squad is Captain Jack Oleks. Bringing a year of experience with him is another starting senior, Mickey Prokopis. Lanky Mike Nygren packs plenty of power in his long fairway shots. Also representing the class of '60 are Tom Rybinski, Dave Murphy, and Tom Davis.

Class Ode

We are a smile,
Bound not by words,
But bound
by soul.
We are a molten mass of tongues and shades of thought.
Never bending
to the strongest wind alone,
But hearing
all the little sniffs of hope,
And saying
yes, we are the world together:
Tomorrow
is our day together:
Praying
for the truth together.

Class Will

We, the graduating class of nineteen hundred and sixty, being of sound mind and body, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament. Through this document we leave to the class of nineteen hundred and sixty one all the happy experiences that we have enjoyed, in hopes that this gift will brighten their Senior year. Several special bequeaths have been made also!

TOM DAVIS and BUTCH MANEY leave their "superb oratorical abilities" to shy Pete O'Connor.

JIMMY MARSHALL leaves his mint green "Impala" to his brother, David, plus a map of Forest Street.

With PETE MOSKOVITES' bequeath of excellent dramatic talent, Billy Laakso should brighten the Dramatic Guild production next year.

ROSE LEVY wills her all-season pass for the "Bel-Aire" Diner to Janice Cappy, hoping that Janice will order peanut-butter sandwiches in her honor.

BONNIE FOSS and DAVE KNOWLTON leave their darling dimples to Maureen Cuscuna and John Votaw.

Our school magazine's editorship will pass from MAUREEN MALONE to capable Roberta Marmer.

DAVE HALLINAN bequeaths his flirtatious smile and charm to Harry Parks. Dave guarantees good results, Harry!

Dale Hardy persuaded JOE HOYLE to leave him a few extra inches of hi- height.

The talented paint brush of PAUL "Picasso" LEVY is left to Rita Maistrellis along with a slightly used piece of canvas.

BARBARA HOLDEN'S happy and very squeaky giggle will be possessed by Elaine Tavis.

Anna Xanthakis is bequeathed DONNA CLANCY'S ability to be friendly with everyone.

PAUL MOGAVERO wills his boulders to any needy homeroom pupil of 101 in 1961.

Calm JOHN MICHALLYSZYN leaves his dozen, slightly chewed pens to the nervous students in next year's Senior class.

JOHNNY GEORGE'S repertoire of remarks for use in study period is inherited by Spero Saxon.

LENNIE STAMATION leaves her book "How to Skate" (and one pair of slightly-used skate laces) to next year's Hockey Cheerleaders.

That charming accent of SALLY JACOBSON'S will travel with her wherever she goes — unfortunately for the girls.

TOM HOSMAN leaves all his left-over gum to Russ Labelle. How many chews can you get in one minute Russ?

DANNY KATSARAKES leaves his happy-go-lucky ways to Mark Allen, next year's good-will ambassador.

BILL LOWD bequeaths the cares of the Dramatic Guild to any worthy Junior.

Holding up the wall near the milk counter for EDDIE TEIXEIRA and BOB ZILINSKY will be Terry Zimerowski and Todd Wilson. Be careful of marking it, boys!

SHEP REMIS and LARRY GRILLO will give their original ideas, free yet, on getting teachers angry to the whole class. Shep will also give tips on "stomach rubbing in French class."

JEANNE MESERVE'S smile should be willed to and shown-off by Jill Hitchcock.

CAROL MULLARKEY'S freckles are willed to Eileen McCarthy.

The expert note-passing of MARIE DUNN will be continued by Betty Patterson.

Signed and witnessed this third day of June, nineteen hundred and sixty.

"The future's in your hands."

"The International Sports Fair"

As the coo-coo clock called out 5:00, DANNY KATSARAKES jumped out of bed. This wasn't any ordinary day in Danny's life. Today was special. It was the opening of the International Sports Fair in Papoose Valley, and he owned and operated the only hot dog stand around. This meant big business for him. After breakfast he turned on his new Model T. HALCHUCK radio in time to catch LON LANGILLE'S early morning weather forecast, "It's gonna be fair." It was just a short distance to his stand, so he decided to walk. On his way he met BOB FINNEGAN opening his PENNY & NICKel CANDY store.

When Danny arrived at the fair grounds all the venders were getting set for the big day. GEORGE BATSINELAS had just set up his popcorn machine when his old classmate THOMAS BAKULA arrived as the first customer. Before very long MARCIA BATEMAN arrived to buy some popcorn for the girls in the office.

As he walked along, he met KEVIN O'KEEFE opening up his balloon stand. Passing the administration building he saw the people crowded at the doorway waiting to get tickets. There, patiently waiting, were ELIZABETH KIRKORIAN and JOANNE LABONTE. They were surprised, but happy to see him there.

Inside the main building DAVE HALLINAN, in the ticket booth, was busy selling the last of the tickets. The last two tickets were being sold to DANNY MACIONE and TOMMY DAVIS, when the skating event was announced. The office manager JEANNE MESERVE, and her staff, LINDA MICALCHUCK, DOTTIE MAKAROWITZ, CELIA MARTIN, DONNA GORSE and JOAN SANTOS were completing their necessary paper work so that they too, could enjoy the coming event. CAROL MULLARKEY, the switchboard operator, was busy receiving calls, and found it impossible to leave.

CATHY BARRY AND SANDRA NAPOLITANO, secretaries of Chief CHARLES ALEXANDER, of the local police force, knew there was no chance of seeing today's events. Maybe tomorrow! The Chief, with Lieutenants JOSEPH SULLIVAN and ROBERT LEPAGE was ready for the day to begin. Probably the most frequent problem for them would be trying to find the parents of lost children.

Back in the office ROBERT COTE was finishing up his dictation to CAROL NELSON. At the typewriter waiting for Carol was CAROL HARWOOD ready to help her so that they both could see the skating event. Even the janitors EMMANUEL PETRADELIS, HENRY WESOLOWSKI, and GEORGE TRAINOR had left their work to join the others.

When Danny arrived at his stand, his two chefs DAVID and JOHN PETERSON were waiting for him. Shortly after, BEVERLY BOLDUC and CAROL CUNHA had arrived and went to put on their uniforms. It was only 9 o'clock, so Danny spent some time cleaning up with his GRILLO scouring pads.

At 9:30 his stand was opened. His first customer was his old school chum JOHNNY GEORGES, who was announcer of the day's events. Standing next to Johnny was the organ grinder man, ROBERT NEWTON, with a monkey on his back. Among the reporters setting up their equipment were PAUL DOMBROWSKI, ace photographer for the Chicago Tribune, and JAMES FLYNN of the Herald.

About this time Papoose Valley was coming alive with spectators and participants in the first day's sporting events. MIKE EFENECY, DENNIS DUPUIS and JIMMY MARSHALL, members of the ski patrol for the week, were checking the main slopes for any last minute hazards. As JOHN GOULD and JOHN KAUPPINEN were seating the last of the eager spectators, the Navy Band marched across the field to the tune of "When the Saints Come Marching In." One could pick out such outstanding members as JOHN CAVANAUGH, LENNY ANTOSZEWSKI and GERALD HURLEY. The color guards raised the flag and JEAN CASSADY accompanied by the band, began "The Star Spangled Banner."

The first event of the day was the figure skating competition. The fans rose in applause as BILL LOWD presented the gold medal to EVANGELINE STAMATION for her outstanding performance.

As the ice was being cleared for the next skating event, many of the sports enthusiasts, among them JUDY PIERCE, JOAN HOBEY, and ANNETTE LAPLANTE, who were attending the annual teacher's convention being held in a nearby town, walked over to Danny's stand to order some coffee. There, joking with Danny, was the famous comedian of the "Tonight Show" ROSE SHEILA LEVY. The "Tonight Show" is the original show which began in the 50's. It has steadily climbed to the number one position, since the debut of the new M. C.—PETE MOSKOVITES. The famous names of the show include LYDIA FREITAS, the famed satiric poet, and the French actor who made his first appearance in "Big Blue Eyes"—JACK OLEKS. Co-starring with Jack was the lovely CAMILLE GRAVELLESE. The announcer of the show is the boy with that Ipana smile—STEVE KUCKER. Also appearing on the Tonight Show are the Singing Sisters, CAROL SANTANGELO, ROSEMARIE DELORENZO, and JOANN DIGIACOMO.

The fans now settled down for a thrilling hour of hockey exhibitions. ROGER NELSON and DICK TASSINARI, along with ED TEIXEIRA and PETE TKACHUK, demonstrated their skill with a hockey stick. CYNTHIA BERRY, JOANNE KOLHONEN, LINDA ABBOTT, and JANET IRELAND had front row seats, and one could see the gleam in their eyes as they remembered their high school days, when they cheered for these same boys.

As the ski patrol returned from the assigned trails, the women competing in the obstacle race got in position. It was an exciting race, with the Olympic Queen ANITA GRIMARD coming in first. In second and third positions were ANN PZEGEO and DOLORES SANTARELLA. Winning in the men's competition was GERARD MCDUFF, with DON GERAGHTY a close second.

This was the final event of the day. Danny soon closed up the stand and hurried home. Danny was having open house for the class of "60", from P.H.S. The first visitors were JOHN KESSARIS and CHARLIE MANTSOURANI, who were here campaigning for this year's presidential election. Charlie was returning from the Presidential Primaries in New Hampshire where the results were very promising. Running against Charlie was TOMMY REILLY. John, his old friend and campaign manager, was certainly doing a fine job. The guests seemed to be gathering fast now. Among them were LINDA PENTILLA, VIRGINIA PAIS, and LINDA OLIVEIRA. Others there were the French designers BETH LUZ and JOANNE DOBZELECKI, and chatting with them were NANCY EDELSTEIN and Hollywood make-up artist BARBARA DUNN. Danny really enjoyed hearing their news and could remember them as members of the best class ever to graduate from P.H.S. The party never had a chance to calm down, for at 11:00 LINDA DOWNEY and CAROLYN DUGGAN came in. They were coming from the rehearsal of their T.V. program. Their local show rates high with the T.V. viewers, especially with their former classmates. Alternating with the "Double Dee Show" is "Fashion Parade" with BARBARA BOYCE as hostess. This is a favorite show with the ladies as she gives the latest fashion news. The party was a great success with the help of FRANNY PARIANOS and LOUISE PROVOST, who supplied the refreshments.

A gathering of over 80,000 was on hand for the opening of the spring and summer events the next day. The M. C. for the second part of the International Sports Fair was GENE MANEY. Gene had been called away from his Shore Line Hotel in Miami to officiate.

The first event would be the stock-car races. As the cars assembled at the starting line, the crowd sat on edge, for two of the cars competing were contestents for our gold medal award. They were BILLY BURKE, driving his own "Blue True," and MICKEY PROKOPIS driving "Trouble Maker." Down from the West Peabody Speedway was JACK MARSHALL, driving Mrs. Connelly's red bomb. Others competing were JOHN SILVA, in his own customized rod, and FRANK CAIRES, driving "The Queen Mary." To the crowd's wonder, our own MICKEY PROKOPIS came in second behind the English contestant, Sir SIDNEY GOLDFARB. It was a hard race; as usual, the Queen Mary put on a good show.

The women's competition followed, with contestants from France, Spain, the United States, and Russia. They were BUNNY BARBRICK, JOYCE CAMPUS, MARSHA GOLDSTEIN, and SANDRA PETERSON. This was an unusual event, as there was no trophy winner. It seems that Bunny's wheel got out of hand, and like most women drivers, the other three girls stopped to help her. The mechanics FRANK MANOS and TINY POWERS ordered the race postponed.

The women's golf tournament began as scheduled, with CATHY COLETY and DONNA CLANCY competing. Their caddies were none other than MARIE DUNN and BARBARA HOLDEN. It certainly is a small world. Ardent spectators of this match were KATHY BEZEMES and RUTH VOUNESSEA.

Following the golf match was the track meet, which got off to a sure victory for the United States with JOHN KILPINEN taking an early lead. Catching up quickly was Australia's own WENDELL WILKINSON. Others representing their native countries in this meet were JIM CAULFIELD, HAROLD PUTNAM, NEIL LAWRENCE, and ALAN CUNNINGHAM. The high jump also brought another victory for the U.S.; SHEP REMIS came in first. In second place was BRUCE THAYER, who had previously held the world record in this event. The trophies were presented to the U. S. by the famed inventor of the Q Bomb, BRETT HARRISON, P.H.D. Brett has sponsored this entire track meet and has won much acclaim as a track enthusiast.

It was now 12:30, and the crowd left for lunch. The fair would resume at 2:30, with the exhibition baseball game. Everyone would now head for BRUCE's Snack BARR for today's special: "All you can eat for 99c." Many of the recent Cafeteria Queens of P.H.S. were there, working as waitresses. As hostess, ELAINE KALFIN had a very hectic day, but a welcome smile was there for everyone. The waitresses, SUE WHITING, PHYLLIS TRABACH, MARTY STANLEY, and BEVERLY TRULL were certainly earning their pay today! The short-order cook, TONY ADAMCZYK, could hardly be discerned through the crowd. DAVE McCAFFREY, who came from Italy to visit, offered to give him a hand. His offer was gladly accepted. The originators of the M & S Salad, MARY MAKELA and CAROLE STACEY, were also there. Their fudge was in great demand that day.

As the time for the commencement of the afternoon session drew near, the people began leaving. Finishing their dinners were many of Bruce's former classmates. Among them were DR. PAUL KENNETT and his nurse, ANN MARIE CALLAHAN. So far they had not been needed at the fair. Sitting near them were ROBERT STONE, RICHIE JACAVANCO, and DAVID JENKINS. These boys founded the Gem Motor Foundation, which has provided the cars for the stock car races. Coming over to chat with Bruce now were STUART MacCRACKEN, ELLIOTT BERES, and ALFRED HUDON. Also there, and delighted to see Bruce, was the Rev. ROY ENOS.

The afternoon began with demonstrations by famous sports personalities. Showing the younger fans some pitching tricks was DENNIS PRICE. Denny was the highest paid pitcher in the Eastern Division League. With Denny were LEO ESPINDLE, DANNY MELLO, ROBERT COLES, and TEDDY DZIADYK, all experts in their regular positions. MIKE NYGREN, high scorer for the Boston Celtics, was there signing autographs for the many eager youngsters. Others present were PETE WAHTERA and JAMES DALTON. Pete had received the most valuable player award from the Boston Patriots for the past 5 years. The younger fans enjoyed seeing Pete and Jay very much.

Next was the swimming competition. Participating in this event were TOM HOSMAN, TOM KATSAPETSES, JIM AHORDINI, and TOM BARANSKI. This was a very splashing event, with Tommy Hosman and Tom Katsapetses tieing for first place. The women's swimming competition also began with a big splash, as PEGGY PHOTIOU, along with PAULA FOYE, CAROL LANGILL, and RUTH GIRGUS participated in this event. Paula beat Carol by a slim margin.

The last event of the day in an outside ring was for the men and women skilled in ju-jit-su. Competing in the men's event were JOHN SOUSA and CHARLIE TRACCHIA. With the championship contenders were their managers, RUSSELL BICK and WALTER BIRMINGHAM. In the women's ring were ROSE O'ROURKE and CAROLYN STOCKER. Refereeing for the boys was CARL HUMMERICK, and PHIL FALKINGHAM refereed for the girls. The fans were very excited and interested as they watched the matches.

The sun had gone down by the time Danny was able to leave the stand. Tonight he would catch up on all of the rest he had missed recently.

On the last day of the sports fair, the inside events were featured. Outside of the gigantic auditorium were signs announcing the fair and giving a rundown of each event. These attractive signs were painted by the P. PRONCO Sign Co.

The inside events also attracted their share of enthusiastic fans. First, the chess match began between HANS HAIMBERGER and WALTER NEKOROSKI. Looking on intently were their coaches, WALTER GROCE and TOM RYBINSKI. As the chess match continued, we went to the next event.

Inside the auditorium the fans were anxiously waiting for the bowling competition to begin. It turned out to be a thrilling match, wih Russia's team of JOHN KODIS and MIKE KUZMIN defeating JOHN AND TEDDY PAPPAS of Greece. The award for the highest single string was won by GEORGE SMART. He received the only trophy given to America in this event.

As we returned to the chess game, we saw that a critical situation had developed. Hans had just maneuvered his opponent into check. The coaches seemed nervous as DAVE MURPHY had come over to confer with them. Then we returned to the bowling events.

Competing in the women's bowling league were CAROLE ST. GERMAIN and SHAREN WILT, with JANICE PULEO and MARTY WINEBLATT opposing them. Carole St. Germain's team was victorious, and received the award for the U. S.

Next was the women's singles badminton match, between MARY ANN ST. PAUL and DAWN PARSONS. They put on a thrilling performance, but the birdie played the leading roll. In the women's doubles, SUE MONAHAN'S team received the trophy. Before leaving the auditorium, after the last event was over, we saw Walter congratulating Hans, who was the winner in the chess match. It was a fine game, boys!

The fair came to a magnificent end, as the fans witnessed the spectacular five-mile parade, including 25 beautifully designed floats from the many different countries participating in the fair. The parade was led by the famous P.H.S. baton corps. They are internationally known, and have traveled to many foreign lands. We recognized many familiar names, such as: JUDY WHITWORTH, DOTTY GLENCROSS, JOYCE HAMILL, KATHY MURPHY, DONNA LANCASTER, VIRGINIA KAUPPINEN, GAIL KALINUK, PAT LAWLOR, and EMILY HENDERSON. Their performance was outstanding and their uniforms were stunning. When we talked to the girls after the parade, we discovered that their uniforms were specially designed for this appearance by the famous company owned by SALLY JACOBSON, SUSAN GOLDSTEIN, BARBARA WEINER, and ROBERTA FEINGOLD. Behind the corps were floats representing the United States. Enhancing the first float were the famous stars of screen and TV, MARY ARDINI and DOREEN HORENSTEIN, who were co-starring with the teenage idol ROBERT ZILINSKY in J. M. MICHAL LYSZYN'S production of "Kamikazi Pigeons," the new smash hit on broadway. Also on the float, interviewing the girls, was the Hedda Hopper of the '70's," LILLIAN BROWN. Featured on the second float were the actors on "M Squad" LENNY MARTILLA, PAUL MOGAVERO and PETE McCARTHY, with their prisoner, JOAN McGRAY, the favorite TV cowgirl. On the same float were our "G Men": STEVE GARLAND, BARRY GOLDBERG, and ROGER GOODROW. With them, in handcuffs, were BONNIE FOSS and BETTY MERCHANT. Bonnie and Betty had their own dance party on TV. On the same float was the "Kookie" of the Legitimate stage, JOHN CRONIN. These floats were made by the W. CHI-GAS Co., and were designed by America's foremost artist, HELEN McNICHOL. The policemen on motorcycles, BILLY ANDERSON, JOEY HOYLE and PAUL RIORDAN, could hardly keep the crowd in order as the floats went by.

Russia followed with a very colorful float. Featured were PAUL RYAN and PRISCILLA BOGLE, the famed Russian folk dance team. Also on the same float were Russia's favorite comedians, JAN BLAKE and TERRY BLANCHETTE. The float representing France wasn't far behind. The early French classroom was the theme of this float. The teacher was enacted by CAROL HYNES, and playing the parts of the students were VIRGINIA RANKIN and SUSAN PIERCE. Along with these girls, representing the honor of France, was the essayist DONA PROSSER. Dona recently received the Nobel Prize Award for the essay "MR. McGEE Goes Sailing." The DWIGHT JAMES studios of Hollywood are using this book as a theme for their next picture.

The crowd was thrilled as each beautifully decorated float passed. Among the spectators were ROBERTA YELINSKI and JOAN STEPENUCK. Their hands were red from applauding the outstanding floats. One could hardly discern their two friends, who were standing behind them: HOPE WEYMOUTH and NINA SMILEDGE. Talking with Nina and Hope were WALTER WILSON and DAVID DALBON. It seemed that the boys were in the Army, and had just returned from Iceland. Hearing the name "Army" TERRANCE MORRISSEY ran over to defend his own branch, the Navy. He was stationed nearby and was able to see the last day of the fair.

As England's float passed, with the portrayal of early English government as its theme, we saw SUSAN FINLAY representing Queen Victoria, and STEVEN PODHASKI representing our own George Peabody. Also on the float, in early English attire, was SANDRA JAMES representing the Queen's lady-in-waiting.

Following this colorful float was the new jet engine fire truck, designed by the Secretary of Progress and Invention, ARNOLD SCHULTZ. Driving the new invention were CHARLIE ADAMS and BRUCE BURBANK. As this truck passed, one of the first fire trucks ever built came by, drawn by four white horses. Sitting in the front seat were STUART LORD and JOHN MICHAUD. Sitting on the back end, waving to the crowd, were RICHARD QUINT, JOHN ROCHE and ED KAVANAUGH.

BETTY CALLAHAN was on the float representing Ireland. She was shown walking through the tall green grass wearing a colorful native costume. Doing the Irish jig were JEANETTE PAUL, ROSEMARIE LABELLE, MAUREEN MALONE, EILEEN CASSIDY, BRENDA FOSS, and EILEEN NALLY. Acting the part of the Irish wash-woman was JUDI McCARTHY.

As the parade ended, the mayor of the town ascended the platform and, after thanking everyone who participated in the fair, he presented the trophy for the most original float. Receiving this award was STEVE SIMMONS, representing Germany. Setting the scene on this float were ROBERT ROGERS, BILLY ROSS and ED SPECTOR, who were dressed in colorful space uniforms. The name of the float was "In My Merry Space Machine." Also on the float, as the beautiful space queen, was VIVIAN LYON, with her ladies-in-waiting, CAROL MATTATALL and PAT HORAN.

It was now 8:00, and all but a few spectators had gone home. PETE SEDLIER, who headed the clean-up committee, assigned EDDIE SALEM, ALBERT SOFI, and WARREN SILBOVITZ to the area near Danny's stand. Danny was now closing up to go home. It had been a hectic week, but for Danny, business was never too good!

This year's Student Council, under the able leadership of their President Mickey Prokopis, and the competent assistance of their faculty advisor, Mr. James Arnold, achieved a great deal of recognition for themselves and our school. Much of the Student Council's success must, however, be attributed to the members of the student body, who supported the Council in all of its endeavors. In all reality, this year's Student Council is one of the most improved, if not the best, Councils in this area.

The Council has truly proven itself to be a representative body of the students, chosen by the students, and working for the students.

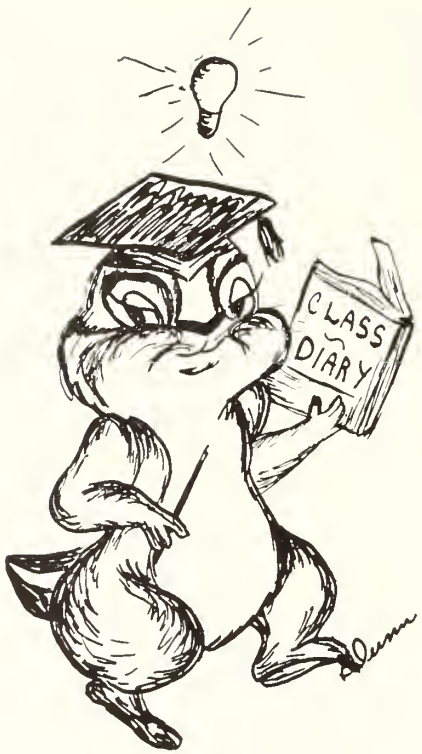
Class Diary



"Memories Are Made of This"

EXCERPTS FROM THE DIARY OF THE CLASS OF 1960

1956-1957—FRESHMAN YEAR

September 10, 1956-Today was our first day at Peabody High. We were bewildered: we were afraid. The warmth of the student body soon allayed our fear, and we were welcomed heartily. This day saw the birth of the greatest class ever to pass through the portals of P.H.S.

1958-1959—JUNIOR YEAR

September 3, 1958—Schoolbells ring, and children sing. It's the rule, we're back in school. As of this day, we became members of that elite group known as "Upperclassmen."

September 18, 1958—Today we elected our class officers. They were Sid "Yogi" Goldfarb-President, Jeanne Meserve-Vice-President, Nick Panagoplos-Treasurer, and Betty Callahan-Secretary. This group worked very diligently and harmoniously for the benefit of our class.

October 1, 1958—This year's first assembly was conducted by Mr. Talcott, the Junior Achievement Co-ordinator for Essex County. Thanks to the efforts of Mr. Talcott, many of us enjoyed two happy years in Junior Achievement companies.

October 15, 1958—Today a representative of the American Museum of Atomic Energy visited our school. He showed us just what Uncle Sam is doing at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

November 4, 1958—The long anticipated day finally arrived. We were measured for our class rings.

January 8, 1959—This day marks the birth of one of the school's most selective organizations, the Student Government Council.

January 16, 1959—Remember this day, girls? It was the Junior Boys' Book Day.

February 7, 1959—S.R.O.—On this chilly winter night, the Dramatic Guild presented a very warm play entitled "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." Several Juniors were members of this cast (which, of course, added to the success of the play).

May 16, 1959—Dinner jackets, gowns and corsages intermingled in the main ballroom of the Hawthorne Hotel as our Junior Prom got under way. The evening was highlighted by the crowning of our lovely queen, Cynthia Berry.

1959-1960—SENIOR YEAR

September 9, 1959—School opened today, marking the beginning of our last year at Peabody High School. Good News Kids! As of today the school day will end at 2:07 p.m. instead of 1:20 p.m.

September 23, 1959—Our final class elections were held today. Members of the illustrious class of '60 once again showed their voting intelligence by electing the finest group of class officers conceivable. Chosen to serve as President was Sid Goldfarb, as Vice-President-Ann Marie Pzegeo, as Treasurer-Nick Panagoplos, and as Secretary-Dolores Santarella.

September 27, 1959—T-E-A-M--Yay Team!!!! Peabody 20-Lowell 12. Today's hard won victory began a season which was to reinstate Peabody as one of the most formidable foes in the Class A division.

October 14, 1959—Today we were measured for caps and gowns. It's hard to believe that graduation is so near!

October 17, 1959—Because of the current rehabilitation project at the school, our Senior Barn Dance was held at the South Memorial School. The atmosphere was gay, the music was "way-out", and everyone had a great time.

December 11, 1959—Our Xmas Ball was held tonight at the Hawthorne Hotel in Salem, Massachusetts. The wise judges chose Jeanne Meserve as our queen and several other gorgeous girls to serve in her court.

December 23, 1959—The Student Council held its first record hop in the school gym. Needless to say, it was a tremendous success.

January 8, 1960—Our Student Council celebrated its first birthday today. The Council has surely come a long way since Jan. 8, 1959.

February 3, 1960—Two of our fellow seniors were rewarded for their academic achievements today. Paul Kennett and Brett Harrison were named to the Honor Society and were awarded gold pins for their excellent grades.

February 5, 1960—Another great performance was given tonight by members of the Dramatic Guild as they presented that rollicking play "Best Foot Forward."

February 24, 1960—Senior Picture Day. Today the official group pictures were taken for the META. Everyone smiled broadly as Mr. Ginsburg clicked his camera.

February 25, 1960—Mickey Prokopis presided over an assembly which rocked the school today. The entertainment was provided by the First Naval District Band from Chelsea. These sailors not only excited the hearts of both sexes with their fine music, but also made several female hearts flutter as they waved "good-by."

March 23, 1960—Peabody High witnessed its second successful Science Fair tonight at the P.H.S. auditorium. The participants, under the excellent supervision of Mr. Sullivan and Miss Coyle, presented some very impressive projects to students, parents, and judges.

May 7, 1960—Four members of our Student Council attended a convention for Massachusetts Student Councils today at Norton, Mass. The four representatives were accompanied by their faculty advisor, Mr. James Arnold.

June 3, 1960—No more pencils, no more books; No more teachers' PLEASANT LOOKS. Today we completed our respective courses of study at P.H.S.

June 6, 1960—An excellent and extremely enjoyable evening was had by all who attended our Senior Banquet tonight.

June 8, 1960—Tonight we held our Senior Reception at Temple Israel, in Swampscott, Mass. This night will truly be one of the most unforgettable memories of our high school years.

June 12, 1960—Today was our Graduation Day. Today we said "Goodby" to P.H.S. and many of our dearest friends. Today we said "Hello" to a new and different type of life. Today we shed tears of joy and sorrow. Today we said to our friends "Good Luck, may God be good to you." It is the sincere hope of the author of this diary that each and every member of the illustrious class of 1960 lights more than his share of candles in life's uncertain darkness.

BE SURE TO ATTEND THE FIRST REUNION.

J.

President's "End of the Term" Message

My fellow classmates,

At the adjournment of each school year various individuals, including the faculty and the general public, aspire to effect an evalnation of the graduating class. The first consideration is academic. In the pressure-cooker race to college existing in our generation, academic achievement has become the foremost requisite for what is generally termed a good class. Another important factor in the creation of an outstanding class, especially in the minds of the aforementioned general public, is the attainment of a respectable athletic record. Winning teams are needed in part for school spirit. From a more mercenary viewpoint winning teams are good for business. A third quality, which in many cases is used as a substitute when the first two are found deficient, is the possession by a class of a few outstanding individulas in diverse fields of activity.

Taking these criteria as a yard-stick, we certainly have every prerogative to proclaim ourselves one of the outstanding classes in the long history of Peabody High School. We have a large number of students entering some of the finest colleges in the country. Our teams in every athletic endeavor have received well deserved recognition. In a more individual vein, we are possessed of a magazine editor who has received national recognition, a number of All-Scholastic athletes, NROTC and Merit Scholarship recipients of virtually unparalled number, and an abounding held of notables in such activities as music, dramatics, and leadership.

But all this is a determination by a materialistic American civilization using a false set of values. As Truth is so often disregarded in our daily lives, so is Truth disregarded in our evaluation. With all due respect to education, we have substituted meaningless tangibles for what is really needed to term a class outstanding. That is the universal preparation for life, the ability to live in love, peace, and harmony with one's fellow man while still nurturing his personal views on life.

We are outstanding not only among previous classes at our school but among all graduating classes everywhere. I base this statement not upon America's false financial farce but upon the attainment by our class of three abstract qualities which signify to me all that is wonderful in America, namely pride, individualism, and tolerance.

The pride is quite evident. For the first time in my years at Peabody High School the students themselves have taken derision in hand and squeezed the very life from it. When we were described by the press as a group of malicious vandals we fought back using only the truth and thus cleared our name in the eyes of the public.

The individualism of which I speak concerns a freedom of expression within the very core of our class. Nowhere have I observed such a willingness to give vent to one's true feelings as within this core. Because of the tremendous diversification in background of the students at P.H.S. one might fear that individualism of expression might be a dormant object in order to preserve the peace between the various factions. But amazingly enough such factions were non-existent. Another example of the fearlessness in policy exhibited in the class of 1960 was the agreement to sacrifice the emotions of a few for an action regarded as worthy of the class as a whole.

The last, and dearest to my heart, seemed to be the theme of our existance. Tolerance was the keynote of the Class of 1960. Let me be more specific. In February of 1960 a group of Kansas City teenagers were arrested for painting swaztikas in the corridors of their high school. In September of 1959 the Senior Class of Peabody High School elected as their President a young man born and bred in the tradition of Orthodox Judaism. Does this not make all other modes of achievement seem minute? May God bless you all.

Signed:

Sid Goldfarb
President of the Class of 1960

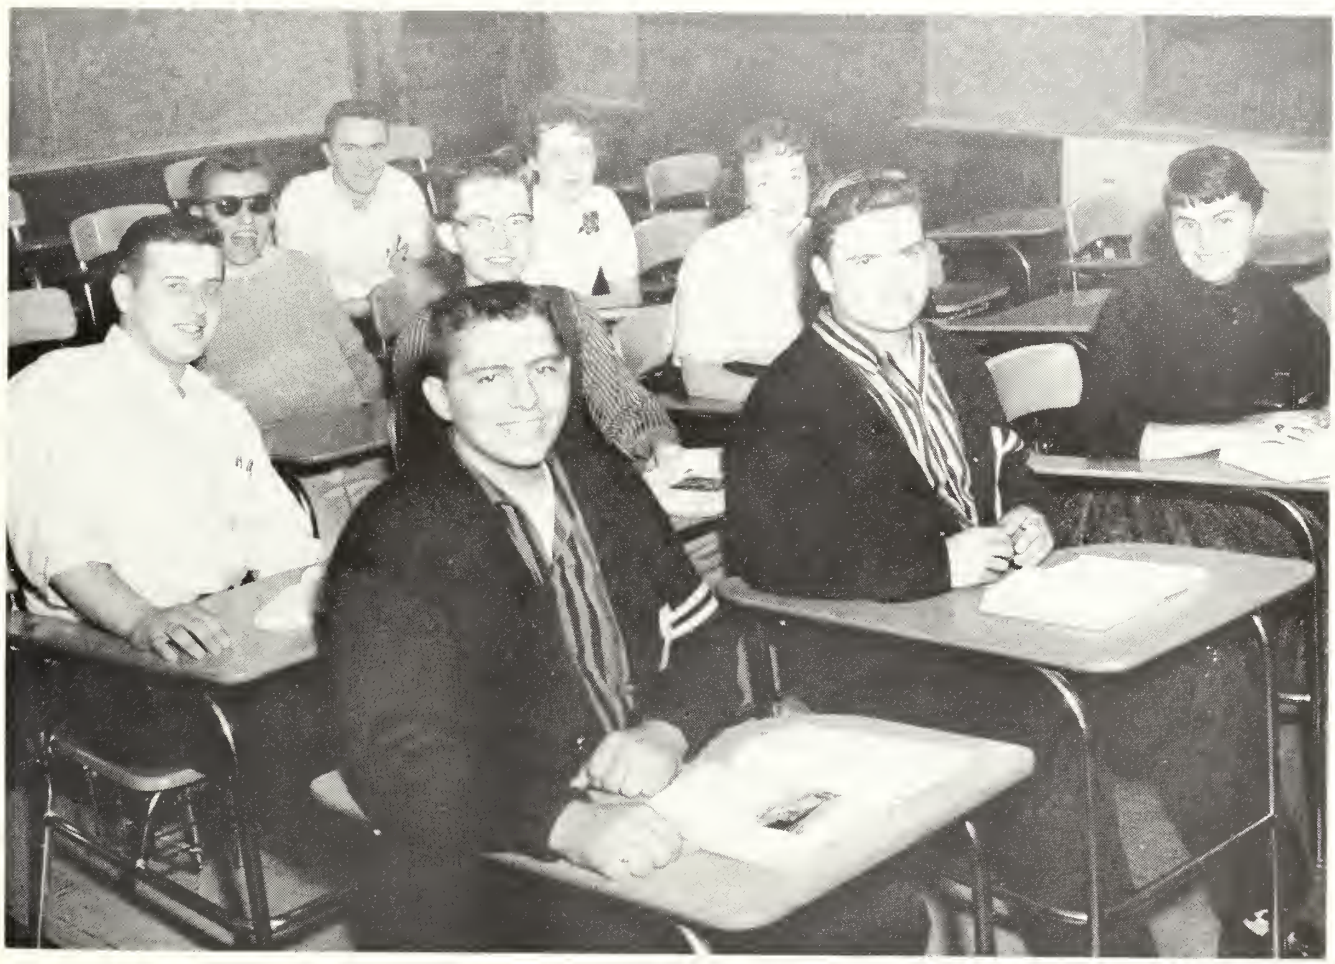
HOMEROOM MEMOIRS

Hi-ya
Kids,
Hi-ya, Hi-ya!



ROOM 101

Miss Marie F. Coyle and Betty Callahan, Homeroom Representative

After graduation when wonderful times at P.H.S. are ended, we may look back with joy at those care-free days in Peabody High School. Most memorable are the typical mornings in that homeroom of homerooms, 101.

As Miss Coyle emerges from the teachers' room, she notices a group of impatient, toetapping seniors outside the LOCKED door of 101. With a sheepish grin she approaches those bookladen, sleepy-eyed girls: MARCIA BATEMAN, CATHY BARRY and BARBARA BOYCE.

As they open the door, from out of nowhere rush CHUCK ALEXANDER, JOHNNY CAVANAUGH, JIMMY CAULFIELD, and BILLY CONWAY. They all seem so anxious to get into their seats and start last night's homework.

Now we see JOYCE CAMPUS come walking in singing praises of Danvers High to JEAN CASSADY and BEVERLY BOLDUC, who disagree, but humor her none the less.

Next come JAN BLAKE and TERRY BLANCHETTE racing up to ask BUNNY BARBRICK how things are with that certain boy who occupies her every thought. Then the three settle down for a full session of giggling before school.

Looking around the room we discover that TOM BARANSKI and JIMMY AIORDINI have sneaked in the back door thinking they were late. Much to their surprise, they suddenly realized that they were on time!

Our more recent arrivals, BRUCE BARR and JOHNNY CRONIN, make their way up to CHARLIE ADAM'S desk to look at those pictures Charlie has in his wallet. "Have you really broken that many hearts, Charlie?" they ask in astonishment. LEONARD ANTOSZEWSKI surprises us all by coming in with a big black eye!

WALLIE BIRMINGHAM refuses to sit at the desk assigned him and dashes to the back of the room to talk with BILLY CHIGAS and TOM BAKULA. Why is it that boys love those back seats?

Between bits of gossip, ANN MARIE CALLAHAN and PRISCILLA BOGLE are wondering if CYNTHIA BERRY will make it to school on time while BILLY ANDERSON, disguised as a sleeping student, tries to catch snatches of their conversation to relate to ANTHONY ADAMCZYK who waits impatiently for the "tell-tale" news.

Meanwhile BETTY CALLAHAN has arrived on the scene and noticing MARY ARDINI'S new outfit runs over to compliment her. Betty can always tell when something is new.

CATHY BEZEMES is frantically trying to explain to GEORGE BATSINELAS the intricacies of U. S. History before his test today. Hope he makes it.

Looking over on the other side of the room, we see ROSEMARIE DeLORENZO busily engaged in a conversation with EILEEN CASSIDY, as CAROLE CUNHA listens.

BRUCE BURBANK seems to be studying, but on closer inspection we discover that he is deeply ingrossed in a Mickey Mouse comic book! A group of boys including BOBBY COLES, RUSSELL BICK, BOBBY COTE, and ELLIOTT BERES is trying to look over his shoulder, but have to give up, because the bell is ringing.

Just as the last echo of the bell is dying away CATHY COLETY and DONNA CLANCY rush in, windblown and breathless. You see, they both overslept and had to run all the way!

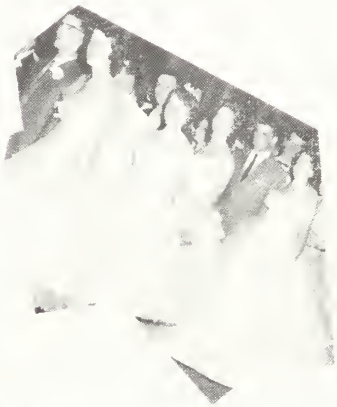
As usual, Miss Coyle reminds LILLIAN BROWN that the bell has rung and that she can hold her conferences with BILLY BURKE and FRANKIE CAIRES at 2:05. We never realized how interested Lillian was in football.

Finally, just as Miss Coyle gives up on LINDA ABBOTT, Linda herself comes dashing into the room with her usual excuse: "I was in 104."

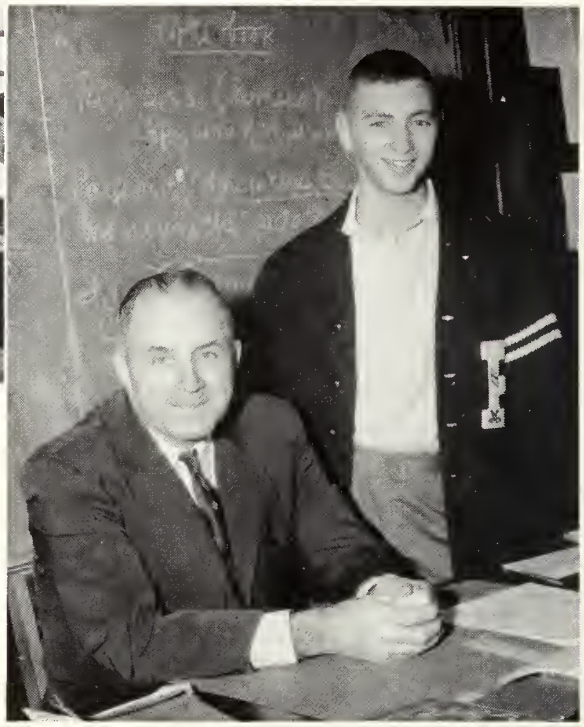
With the combination of the greatest group of Seniors and the greatest teacher in P.H.S., how can we help having the greatest homeroom!!

101 wishes the class of 1960 the best of luck in future years.

JUNIOR PROM



ROOM 102



Mr. Edward T. Donahue and Barry Goldberg, Homeroom Representative

"This is Your Life, Homeroom 102"

September 9, 1959, as you may recall, was the first day of another school year. It was only a short time later that you discovered that PHILIP FALKINGHAM, STEPHEN GARLAND and ROGER GOODROW were to occupy three of your forty-eight seats. Do you recognize that voice? Why, of course, it's none other than that famous Homeroom Representative, BARRY GOLDBERG. Here he is now, guarded by DAVID DALBON and ALAN CUNNINGHAM. By the way, Barry, where did you manage to get those sharp plaid pants you always wear?

You appear to be the center of attraction, especially where BRENDA FOSS, CAMILLE GRAVELLESE, CAROL HARWOOD and DONNA GORSE are concerned. Incidentally, you will be happy to know that LYDIA FREITAS has finally reimbursed her father for the damage done to his car. I know you will never forget your migraine headaches caused by the shrieking voices of CAROLYN DUGGAN and LINDA DOWNEY.

We are not criticizing, but why is it that NANCY EDELSTEIN'S desk always seems to fall apart? (after all, she is not that fat!)

I am sure that JOANN DiGIACOMO, ROY ENOS, and BRENDA EVANS will always come to mind as three of your favorite classmates.

Remember how MICHAEL EFENECY seemed to have an abundance of females surrounding him. (Sorry, girls, he is already spoken for)!!

Among other Casanovas is LARRY GRILLO. (Congratulations, have you set the date?) Why not a double wedding with our famous drum player, BOBBY FINNEGAN, and his cute cheerleader PENNY FABIANO.

Now that TEDDY DZIADYK and JIMMY FLYNN have finally obtained their licenses, we are all letting ours expire.

Remember February fifth, when JOHN GOULD made his debut in his striking Valentine underwear in the play? May we see them again sometime, John?

Other events which aroused your attention were the day the Betty Crocker award was given to your own SUSAN FINLEY, and the day JOANN DOBZLECKI announced that her ring had been found.

One of your favorite athletes is LEO ESPINDLE. He sure can play football!

Speaking of athletes, you must not forget those two hefty characters, JOHNNY GEORGES and SID GOLDFARB, who always have some remark to make which causes an uproar in your classroom. By the way Sid, how are those Kamikaze pigeons?

Poor TOMMY DAVIS! His only excuse was that school started before he arrived!!

Remember how JAY DALTON, DONALD GERAGHTY and WALTER GROCE were forever warming your seats.

DOTTIE GLENCROSS and EMILY HENDERSON must be twirling batons in their sleep by now. You must admit they were outstanding.

Have you seen our BONNIE FOSS playing bass drum in the band? She's been a real trooper for 4 years.

Your class artist BARBARA DUNN has certainly displayed her talents. Best of luck at Merrimack, Barbara.

Well, MARIE DUNN, have you found any worms in the library books recently?

Naturally there are a few fortunate individuals who own their own cars. If we are ever in need of a ride we shall be sure to call on PAUL DOMBROWSKI and DENNIS DUPUIS.

Here they come now, Mutt and Jeff themselves, RUTH GIRGUS and PAULA FOYE.

Those two mixed up girls MARSHA and SUSAN GOLDSTEIN who are always being confused as either sisters or cousins are making their entrance now. (Which is it girls?)

Your room would not be complete without ANITA GRIMARD, who is always filled with fun and laughter. Good luck, Anita!

We wish for the pupils of 102, the best of everything!

ROOM 103

Miss Anna B. Carroll and Tom Hosman, Homeroom Representative

Being a Senior has really been wonderful!

Of the many things we will remember of our high school career, the good times with our other classmates in homeroom 103 will top the list. Though we may never again see some of these classmates after Commencement, we will always remember them, as we take a few moments to reminisce about years gone by.

First, we will always remember that two National Honor Society members were in our room. PAUL KENNETT wasn't there much; he seemed to either be holding a conference with Mr. Johnson, or standing in front of 105 every morning, but BRETT HARRISON was usually there, and we always knew when Miss Coyle was giving a biology test, because Brett would borrow SANDY JAMES'S notes. I wonder where Brett's notebook was!!!

Remember the day SANDY brought her doll to school? Come now, Sandy, I thought we were seniors! Oh, that's right, that was your science fair project!

JOHN KESSARIS, DONNA LANCASTER, and DAVE KNOWLTON also seemed to be missing much of the time. Looking in the corridor, we found DONNA looking for someone in 102, and DAVE seemed to be having one of his usual discussions (or is it discussion?) with LARRY GRILLO, but where was JOHN? No one seemed to know.

The chess title for P.H.S. must have gone to either TIM HALCHUCK or HANS HAIMBERGER. And while they played chess, listening to JERRY HURLEY'S portable radio, MIKE KUZMIN was telling everyone that there were 30 more days of school left. Were you anxious, MIKE?

GAIL KALENUK never let us forget about driving classes either. She was forever asking for a book.

Speaking of books, ELAINE KALFIN deserves a gold star for all that she's read. Every morning we would see Miss Carroll signing a library permit for her.

We seem to have had some bankers in our room too. DWIGHT JAMES had the trying task of collecting money for our Meta ad, and TOM HOSMAN was collecting class dues all year.

TOM KATSAPETSES held an important position in our homeroom. He counted the number of lunches for the day. Did you ever learn to count past 12, Tommy?

Another common event in 103 was BARBARA HOLDEN'S coming in every morning with a picture, letter, or postcard. And remember those sad days when she didn't have one?

We did have a few studious members, too. DANNY KULAK must have been a whiz at physics, and ELIZABETH KIRKORIAN seemed to spend quite a little time laboring over math problems. But JOANNE LaBONTE must have received a well-rounded education, for she studied something different each day.

We'll always remember taking attendance at 2:00. DANNY KATSARAKES was a big help with the pointer stick. It's a wonder he was still in shape, after all his friendly fights with ALFRED HUDON.

I wonder if DAVID JENKINS still does "back-flips"? That was a long time ago.

The favorite conversations in 103 seemed to be about JOHN KODIS'S bowling scores, and you could always hear RICHARD JACAVANCO telling PAT HORAN about his car.

And speaking of conversations, JOANNE and ELENA KOLHONEN must have had some interesting ones. No one ever heard them though. They whispered!

The famed hair stylists were ROSEMARIE LaBELLE, VIRGINIA KAUPPINEN, and CAROL LANGILLE, while DOREEN HORENSTEIN was the "Fashion expert."

And we all know how nervous CAROL HYNES was when she gave her speech on George Washington. It was terrific, Carol.

Another known fact in our homeroom was that JANET IRELAND and JOHN KILPINEN had reserved the last seats in the third and fourth rows.

And what would we have done without EDMUND KAVANAUGH. I know some who would have had a hard struggle in French if it weren't for "Ebbie."

Did anyone else ever notice that JOE HOYLE seems to have "the eyes that hypnotize"? I wonder what he was thinking about?

And we'll never forget the new addition to our homeroom, CANDY LAMBING. It didn't take her long to get acquainted at P.H.S., with the winning smile she has, with that certain someone in 105!

Last, but not least, we'll remember waiting anxiously to see if JOHN KAUPPINEN was going to make it in his "car", and we never knew just when DAVE HALLINAN was going to stroll in.

After reviewing all these fond memories, we want to thank MISS CARROLL, for all the patience she had with us, and wish to the students of 103 the best of luck and happiness in the future!

ROOM 104

Mr. James H. Greehy and Jack Marshall, Homeroom Representative

104 — the number of a Senior class homeroom? The stamping ground of some of the most wonderful kids around? Scene of happy and memorable experiences? You bet!! Let's just picture a typical Wednesday morning study. One of the first sights that will probably meet your eyes is 104's own private adaption of Perc Westmore's famous beauty salon. Who's running it? You guessed it: our own HELEN McNICHOL ably assisted by CAROL MATTATALL. Now there are two girls who hardly need any of their own services! In one corner of the rooom you'll probably find BETH LUZ showing those embarrasing baby pictures to an enthusiastic audience composed of JACKIE MARSHALL, DANNY MELLO, and JIMMY MARSHALL. Oops, the audience had just dwindled down to two, as JACKIE was called out to a meeting of Homeroom Reps. Be careful, JACKIE, don't wake BILL MULLIGAN on your way out. By the expression on his face he's having quite a dream. Good Grief, it looks like JACKIE was just the first of a long line of excuse-makers to be dismissed, for there go ANNETTE LaPLANTE, DOTTY MAKAROWITZ, and JOAN McGRAY on their way to one of those memorable driving sessions with Mr. Cronin. As they near the door a shout from the back of the room rings in our ears. It's PETE MOSKOVITES shouting, "Watch out for those walking trees, girls; you're listening to the voice of experience." Speaking of experience, those two well-known admirers of the female sex, FRANK MANOS and BILLY LOWD, are at it again comparing notes on their escapades in the romance department. Their conversation is briefly interrupted by a prolonged gasp from the one and only Mr. Greehy as he realizes that after an absence of at least two weeks, PAUL MOGAVERO is with him once again. Regaining his composure, Mr. G. exclaims: "That must have been quite a boulder, Mogavero!" A gale of laughter echoes from the back of the room. At first you would think it was in appreciation of Mr. G's humor: however, it turned out to be LON LANGILLE, "TINKA" MARTIN, and NEIL LAWRENCE laughing at PAUL LEVY'S corny jokes! Too bad his sister ROSE isn't around to hear those famous jokes, although she's undoubtedly heard them a few times (?) before. Where is she? Well, you've guessed it. She's down in the gym practicing cheers with MARY MAKELA. (But let's face it, 104's cheerleaders hardly need practice.) And GENE MANEY never needs practice—that is, when it comes to getting out of homeroom. GENE is a very versatile boy, and as a jack-of-all-trades, had given invaluable help to the production of the Dramtic Guild plays and assembly. CHARLIE MANTSOURANI has just become a member of the Dramatic Guild in another futile attempt to get dismissed from homeroom! Better luck next time, CHARLIE. Maybe our likeable Observer editor, MAUREEN MALONE, can help you. She's being dismissed for a literary staff meeting. And there goes JUDI McCARTHY out to the water bubbler for a drink, although chances are she'll see more of that male friend of hers from 101 than she will of the water! Now that the homeroom attendance has dwindled down some, we can hear JACK McGEE, STUIE LORD, and BOBBY LePAGE whispering about the latest thing in carburetors. LENNY MARTILLA is conferring with VIVIAN LYON (one of our brave third year French students), on some complimentary French words which will help enhance his gentlemanly ways. On the other side of the room, DAVE McCAFFREY had succeeded in getting JOHN MICHALLYSZYN to stop chomping on his distorted pen, long enough to answer a history question. But wait a minute, is it really Michallyszyn's pen? Here comes PETE McCARTHY with an enraged look on his face. No, he's not after the pen; he's only after today's homework from JOHN MICHAUD. Meanwhile, four seats over and one seat up, we find GERARD McDUFF, STUIE MacCRACKEN, and DANNY MACIONE plotting how they, too, will join the crowd of 104'ers who suddenly have urgent matters which need their immediate attention on Wednesday morning. But, alas, the bell rings, and our three plotting pupils have to put off their excuses for another week! Well, there you have it, 104 in a nutshell. Will you ever forget it? No, Sir! It will take its place among your finest memories; a wonderful homeroom, a wonderful teacher, and wonderful, wonderful friends.

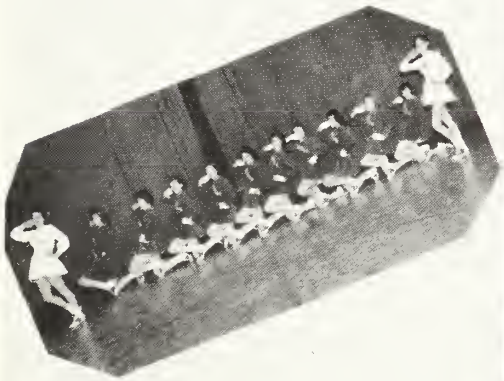
CHEERLEADERS



ROOM 105

Mr. D. Edward Gorman and Carol Mullarkey, Homeroom Representative

Here is a page out of our expose magazine, "Who's Who" in 105. What we print is more or less the truth about the happenings of just one crazy day in our P.H.S. homeroom.

Once again it is Wednesday morning and we hear the familiar sound of Mr. Gorman rapping his knuckles on his desk after the morning prayer, signifying the beginning of the usual extra period.

As Mr. Gorman finishes taking attendance, ROSIE O'ROURKE and CAROL NELSON come walking through the door as usual. We wonder why they're always late??

We then see CAROL MULLARKEY trying to persuade JOE PALERMO and PAUL RIORDAN to pay their Senior Dues. Keep it up Carol, they are bound to give in before the year is through.

It seems that the quietest boy in the homeroom is DAVE MURPHY. We wonder if he is that quiet after school?

Just then ANN PZEGEO, our D.A.R. Girl, and NICK PANAGOPLOS leave to go to a class officers' meeting. We would like to attend one of these meetings to see what they actually accomplish.

Whoops! There goes JEANNE MESERVE on her usual stroll to the office to do some work . . ? ? ? Who's that walking out behind her! Oh! it's JACKIE OLEKS. He is probably going to 109 to see a certain Junior girl. All anyone seems to know about her is that she has short red hair.

Meanwhile, in the corner are MICKEY PROKOPIS and SHEPARD REMIS talking about their favorite subject . . . FRENCH?? It seems that is all they ever think about.

DAWN PARSONS is telling SANDY NAPOLITANO about the date she had Sunday with the boy from Northeasern.

As we turn around we see SUE MONAHAN leaving for Miss Mac's office to discuss some of the past basketball games.

We want to congratulate HAROLD PUTNAM on being selected the best-dressed boy in the Senior Class.

ROBERT ROGERS is telling JOHN ROCHE about the low mark he got in his History exam. We can't understand why he complains about an 85%, can you?

Over in the corner are WALTER NEKOROSKI and KEVIN O'KEEFE playing chess, while ROBERT NEWTON gives some much needed assistance.

VIRGINIA PAIS and LINDA MICALCHUCK are telling LINDA PENTTILA about the way Miss Cody dictates. There's no use in complaining girls; of course Miss Cody must be right about the way she does things.

JEANETTE PAUL and RUTH PELLEY are discussing past bi-monthly exams, while LOUISE PROVOST is in deep study for a future test. At times like this PEGGY PHOTIOU says she's glad to be a Distributive Ed. girl.

LINDA OLIVEIRA and "KITCHY" PULEO are still thinking about that nice looking young man who demonstrated office machines. Was he really that cute, girls?

It looks as though JOHN and TEDDY PAPPAS are still disagreeing about something. After four years of it, they should be tired of arguing.

A few seats over we find JOHN and DAVE PETERSON discussing the latest ideas in car designs with TOM REILY and "TINY" POWERS.

As usual FRANNY PARIANOS is talking about a certain boy. She even has BETTY MERCHANT listening attentively. BETTY usually spends most of her time studying.

DENNIS PRICE is busy telling RICHARD QUINT and PAUL PRONCO about the prospects of the coming baseball season. It looks as though they will have a fairly good season.

As the period is coming to a close, we notice KATHY MURPHY and SANDRA PETERSON doing some last minute studying, while DONA PROSSER and EILEEN NALLY are trying to locate the books they need for first period.

JUDY and SUSAN PIERCE seem unaware of the fact that the bell is about to ring. They continue talking about the past four years, as they have been doing all period.

As the final bell rings, telling the students to file to their first period, we hear a sigh of relief from Mr. Gorman.

That brings us to the close of "Who's Who" in 105. But we will never forget those happy moments under the supervision of Mr. Gorman. We wish the best of luck to you all, and may success and happiness be yours always.

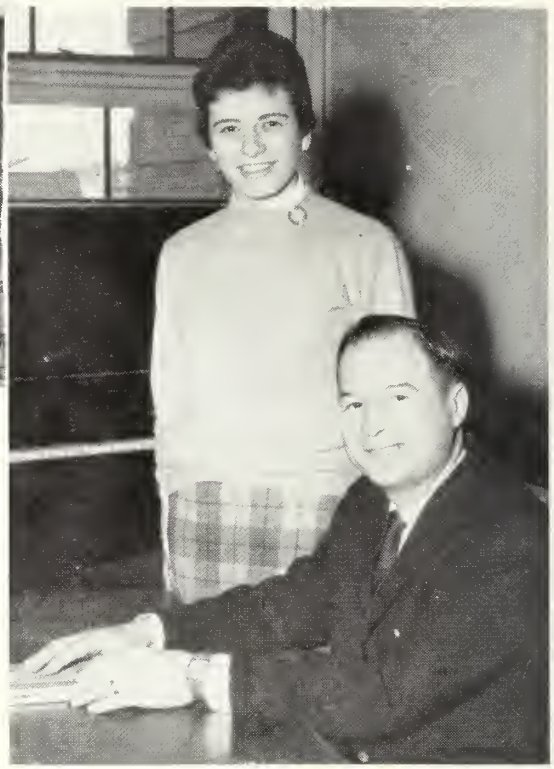
ROOM 107



Mr. Albert Sternberg and
Carole Stacey, Homeroom Representative

This is your favorite roving reporter, John Cameron Lazy, bringing you the best in candid shots from our very popular homeroom, 107.

First of all, we can see two of our "shop boys," JOHNNY SILVA and GEORGE TRAINOR looking out the front window, watching all the students enter our hallowed portals.

Look, there's BOB ZILINSKY and EDDIE TEIXEIRA checking homework with STEVE SIMMONS and AL SOFI. It seems that Mr. Sullivan keeps them busy with his tricky physics problems.

Here come more of the "shop boys," HENRY (HANK) WESOLOWSKI, JOHN SOUSA, and ROBERT (STONEY) STONE, showing their smart new jackets to CAROLYN STOCKER, JOAN STEPENUCK, and HOPE WEYMOUTH.

Now Mr. Sternberg is walking into the room, followed by ARNIE SCHULTZ and EDDIE SPECTOR, who are asking him about various colleges.

In spite of all the commotion the bell rings, and JUDY WHITWORTH hastily makes her departure to see that special boy from 101.

There's DOLORES SANTARELLA combing her hair while JOAN SANTOS and MARTY WINEBLATT hold the mirror and discuss the latest gossip.

What is that weird noise? Oh, it's just CAROL SANTANGELO and NINA SMILEDGE laughing at one of TOM RYBINSKI'S jokes!

Our Homeroom Rep. CAROLE STACEY is trying to collect class dues from EDDIE SALEM and GEORGE SMART. Come out from under the desks, boys!!

While Carole is lecturing Eddie and George, BILLY ROSS and WARREN SILBOVITZ cleverly maneuver by her and manage to get to the rear door. Ooops! They glance back and bump full force into MARTHA STANLEY and BRUCE THAYER, who drop all their books. Gallant WENDELL WILKINSON comes to their aid and helps gather all their books and papers.

Where is that chatter coming from? Oh, it is just MARY ANNE ST. PAUL holding her daily "gab session" with VIRGINIA RANKIN and BARBARA WEINER. It's almost time for the bell to ring, so of course our favorite skater EVANGELINE (LENNIE) STAMATION makes her appearance.

While we're on the subject of skating, how can we overlook our wonderful goalie, RICHARD (DICK) TASSINARI, who is talking over some hockey plays with his teammate, PETE TKACHUK.

Our all-around athlete, FREDERICK (PETE) WAHTERA is receiving lots of good wishes for success in the basketball Tech Tourney from SHAREN WILT, PETE SEDLIER, WALTER WILSON, and ROBERTA YELINSKI.

Here comes RUTH VOUNESSEA with her graduation pictures. PHYLLIS TRABACH and CAROLE ST. GERMAIN admire them as Ruth writes out small pictures for her friends.

The final bell is sounding and all eyes turn expectantly to the rear of the room. No one is disappointed. Before the bell has finished ringing, the late crowd, PAUL RYAN, BEVERLY TRULL, SUSAN WHITING, and JOSEPH (JOE) SULLIVAN make a noisy entrance and ask Mr. Sternberg not to mark them absent or late. With the arrival of these students, homeroom 107 is complete.

This is John Cameron Lazy wishing to the Class of 1960 the very best of luck in the future. May you find happiness and contentment in all you undertake in the days to come, and may you never forget the wonderful times you have known in your four years at P.H.S.
